Francesco Pira

Catania, Italy

me@fpira.com
[fpira.com] [github.com/pirafrank]

Web Developer and curious mind studying Computer Engineering, co-founder of a web-services startup, with experience in students' associations and with the aim to improve people's lives.

Skills

Web: HTML, CSS, SCSS, JavaScript, Ruby on Rails, Flask, Electron, Wordpress, Prestashop
Web servers and Databases: Apache, nginx, Puma, PostgreSQL, SQLite
Languages: Python, Ruby, C, bash, Java
Tools and Platforms: Git, Amazon web services, Heroku, Debian Linux, CentOS, OS X
Soft Skills: Project Management, Team Management, Team Working, Social Networking
Other: Security, Photoshop, Sketch (by Bohemian Coding), Computer Hardware

Experience

IT Team Coordinator at EESTEC, Worked remotely from Catania, Italy
Feb 2015 - Jun 2015
- Assigned weekly tasks to the team about server maintenance and Django
- Wrote server and infrastructure documentation

Web Developer, self-employed, Catania, Italy
Dec 2013 - May 2015
Worked in a team of 3, developed landing pages, static websites, an e-commerce and a Rails app deployed on AWS.

IT Team member at EESTEC, Worked remotely from Catania, Italy
Jul 2014 - Jan 2015
- Responsible for server migration (Set 2014, two weeks)
- Sys admin (server maintenance)

Education

University of Catania, BSc in Computer Engineering - Catania, Italy
Expected 2016
- Relevant courses: Mathematics, Programming, System Automation and Electronics

Principe Umberto di Savoia High School, National ICT Course - Catania, Italy
2006 - 2011
- Grade: 100/100
- Relevant fields of study: Mathematics and Physics

Associations

EESTEC, European students' non-profit organisation (eestec.net), Youthub Catania (youthub.net), GDG (Google Developers Group) Catania

Languages

- Italian, native proficiency
- English, rated CEF Advanced (C1)

Interests

Web development, Python programming, network security, new technologies, meeting new people, beer, jiu jitsu and Japanese culture, travelling, thriller books and movies.